

GOVERNOR CHOOSES COLONEL M'CARTHY TO LEAD DEMOCRATS

Political Pot Begins To Simmer
and Bourbons Whet Knives
For Factional Fray

COUNTY COMMITTEE WILL HAVE BIG CONFAB TONIGHT

Party Patronage and Delegation
To National Convention Come
Up For Consideration

The political pot is simmering and the party leaders are getting busy with plans for the coming campaign, which will be in full blast in about two months. From indications it looks as if there would be a very long campaign, especially on the part of the Democrats in this city to try and take up the running where they were counted out at the last municipal election, and the get-together powwows which have begun will be continued by the bourbons indefinitely until it is finally shown whether the disaffected factions can be brought together in a harmonious cohesion, or whether there will be the same old pull-hauling of faction against faction for the control.

Committee Meets Tonight

B. N. Kahalepuna, secretary of the Democratic county committee, has issued a call for a meeting to take place this evening at half-past seven o'clock at room 4 Kapiolani Building. The call states that "the object of the meeting is to determine ways and means whereby the so-called factional elements existing in our ranks may come together and promote the interest and the welfare of the party that will bring good results to the greatest number."

E. J. McCandless will preside as chairman, and those specially invited to attend are Lester Potrie, W. H. McClellan, Jesse P. Makainai, Joseph Lightfoot, Solomon Meheula, Clem K. Quinn, Thomas McVane, E. H. F. Weller, Jack S. Kalakala, John H. Wilson, John Markham, Charles J. McCarthy, E. L. McCandless, E. G. Sivenburgh, Palmer P. Woods, E. G. Dunsenburgh and several others.

Patronage To Be Topic

The matter of party patronage will be discussed and as the Governor is to come in for severe criticism it is expected that the meeting will be a merry one. As C. J. McCarthy, who is stated to have received the appointment as campaign manager for the Governor, will be present. It is anticipated that he will not stand for a too harsh criticism of his chief.

The announcement of the handling of the political affairs of the Governor by McCarthy was made in a recent interview between the chief Executive and Harry Irwin, the leading Democratic booster of the Big Island. The latter called on the Governor and advised Mr. Pinkham that as the Governor was the head of the Democratic party in the Territory he should be calling the get-together meetings which are being held and not stand aside to let the work be done by smaller men. The Governor is said to have replied that he knew that to be so but as he was not a politician he had appointed Treasurer McCarthy as his representative in matters political.

The words "hell" and "dam" are said to have been used by the Governor several times during the course of the conference, but whether they were in reference to politics or the eternal fitness of things is not reported.

There are rumors of budding candidates for the trip to the national Democratic convention to be held at St. Louis in June. Among them are Raymond of Maui and Ollie Sivenburgh of Hawaii are in the running and Palmer P. Woods and John Edinger are mentioned as candidates from this island. The Democrats will have the privilege of electing six delegates to St. Louis, each with a vote, and there is a probability that they will go pledged to the re-election of President Wilson.

ATTORNEY FROM TEXAS IS ADMITTED TO BAR

Samuel B. Kemp, once upon a time a judge in Texas, is now a member of the Hawaii bar, having been admitted yesterday afternoon in the federal court. He was introduced by a fellow Texan and good friend, District Attorney George W. Vaughan. Mr. Vaughan, after the details of Mr. Kemp's admission had been attended to, declared that he believes the government intends appointing Mr. Kemp as assistant district attorney, but added that there is nothing official from Washington, upon which to base his belief.

J. A. McCANDLESS HEADS HOME INSURANCE COMPANY

At the annual meeting of the shareholders of the Home Insurance Company, A. J. Campbell and S. S. Paxson were elected directors for the ensuing year. The resignation of Cecil Brown as president was accepted with regret. At the election of officers all the incumbents were re-elected, except the president, whose resignation made a vacancy. J. A. McCandless was the choice of the directors to fill the vacant chair.

NEW YORK ANNALIST'S BAROMETRICS PROVE GENERAL PROSPERITY

The annalist's index number, giving the average wholesale price of twenty-five food commodities selected and arranged to represent a theoretical family's food budget, on January 22, last stood at 157.15, the highest point reached since February, 1915. It has only been exceeded in September, 1914, the panic month of high prices immediately following the outbreak of war in Europe.

Sales of stocks at New York were 3,062,043 shares compared with 1,802,119 shares a year ago. The average high and low prices of fifty stocks was 90.80 and 87.97, compared with 64.68 and 62.47 last year.

Bond sales were $24,010,000 compared with $19,656,000 in the same period last year. New security issues were $22,398,000 compared with $32,909,190 in 1915.

Potentiality of Productivity
At end of December, 1915, U. S. steel orders stood at 7,806,220 tons, compared with 3,836,642 tons in 1914; and daily pig iron capacity and daily consumption had doubled.

Building permits in 101 cities for December, 1915, were $52,560,825, compared with $28,926,171, one year before. Bank clearings for the week were 46.3 per cent greater than for same week, 1914. Exports in the eleven months to December 1, 1915, were $1,576,073,241 in excess of the preceding year, totaling $3,192,000,000.

Current minimum prices for basic commodities January 22, 1916, compared with even date in 1914 and 1915 were:

San Francisco bank clearings were $55,504,000 for the week ending January 22, 1916, compared with $47,831,000 one year before. At New York they were respectively $2,764,637,000, and $1,698,494,000.

WHAT A FARMER 'MAKES' AND HOW HE MAKES IT

"A farmer's net income is the difference between what he pays for what he buys and what he gets for what he sells. He can 'make money' quite as certainly by having less to buy as by having more to sell—a fact which is in danger of being overlooked."

The extension division of the Hawaii experiment station so admonishes farmers in a brief resume of a recent department of agriculture bulletin on "safe farming."

The recommendations are that every farmer should have a home-garden, paying special attention to a plot of Irish or sweet potatoes sufficient to supply the family with food of this character; that every farmer grow feed for his cattle and livestock, paying special attention to the legumes; that he raise as much of the home meat supply as possible, planning "to increase gradually the number of cattle and number to consume the waste products of the farm and make the waste lands productive."

After all these things have been amply provided for, produce whatever main crop is being grown for market.

The Color of Butter

At the California experiment station it has been shown that the yellow coloring matter which popular opinion always associates with the best country and creamery butter, is actually an impurity. The yellow color of the butter when cows are on grass pasture is derived from a yellow pigment (carotin), elaborated in immature grasses. It has no flavor or odor and is not digestible. Carotin is not food.

Many plants which are of little or no forage value contain this pigment and could color butter yellow if eaten by cows. Practically, the yellow color adds nothing whatever to the table value of butter, and is not an index of quality, as many imagine. The best butters are those which do not contain carotin, the scientists declare.

Bankers And Farmers

Many Wisconsin bankers are becoming intensely interested in farming. In 1914, fourteen pure bred seed contests were conducted by as many banks in the state. Ninety bankers distributed 360,000 farm bulletins among their customers—present and prospective.

Potash In Texas

Potash deposits have been discovered in Potter and Randall counties, in western Texas. The water of salt wells sunk to the depth of about 900 feet has been found to contain from 10.5 per cent of this element. It is believed that a very extensive potash deposit underlies the entire Panhandle section of the state.

WEEKLY MARKET LETTER

By A. T. LONGLEY

Superintendent Territorial Marketing Division
There has been little improvement in the green vegetable market during the week. All vegetables are very scarce.

Fresh island eggs dropped to forty-five cents a dozen on the tenth, and were reported as selling as low as forty cents today. Large quantities of eggs are coming into the market from the other islands, as well as from the vicinity of Honolulu, and if the supply continues large it is likely that the price will stay low at least until Carnival week, when there should be a liberal demand.

The demand is good for all kinds of poultry. The market has been under supplied since the Christmas holidays. Strawberries are in demand and but very few are coming in. Kona oranges are better this year than for some time past. They are larger and sweeter than usual. The season is extended this year, as shipments are ordinarily not received after New Year's.

There has been practically no change in the live hog or dressed meat market. The division is in need of all kinds of poultry, green vegetables, fruits and dried beans and dressed beef and pork.

Teachers of Agriculture
The demand for properly trained men to teach agriculture in secondary schools is greater than the supply, and, from present indications, will continue to be for some time. Hitherto, comparatively few men have studied agriculture with the deliberate intention of teaching it as a life work. In consequence, while provision for agricultural education has been greatly developed, the number of teachers is still small.

This subject is discussed in the Agricultural Education Monthly by the department of agriculture. It points out that a good teacher of agriculture must, of course, have all the fundamental qualifications. He must know his special subject and must also be versed in the science of education and the art of teaching. Those already qualified to teach general subjects in secondary schools who wish to teach agriculture should, if possible, take at least a course extending over several years in the state agricultural college. Those who can not leave their positions can with very little trouble or expense take courses during the summer vacation or short courses during the winter.

What About Butter?
At Honolulu wholesale prices a ton of butter is worth from $700 to $900. A ton of meal costs not more than $50 at top prices. Now the question comes, which is the most profitable feed for calves?

As has been stated in these columns, European farmers have long made a practice of selling their butterfat as butter and raising the dairy calves on skim milk with which cheap vegetable oils have been emulsified. As good butter can be made in Hawaii as in any other country, it is simply a matter of cleanliness and knowing how. Why should Hawaii import butter in hundred ton lots when a better article can be produced at home?

A Vegetable Shortage

There is still a shortage of home-grown vegetables and green stuff in the city markets, due in some measure to the excessive rains during the Christmas season. With more people coming to Honolulu by every steamer it would appear that island small farmers have missed a great opportunity in not anticipating the increased demand for good vegetables.

"Anything" grows in this latitude, but the seed has to be planted, just the same. There is always a demand for fresh vegetables. This demand is going to increase. Hence "small farmers" should get to work growing what is needed.

THAM LANGFORD DROPS WILLS IN NINETEENTH

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)
NEW ORLEANS, February 12.—Harry Wills, the California heavyweight, was given an awful lacing here last night by "Tham" Langford, the Boston brawler, roughly taking the count when Langford caught him a right hand on the point of the jaw. Both men are colored.

ALL-CHINESE BOW TO SPEED MARTIN

Winged O' Squad Again Show
Fans That They Can Shine
At National Game

Bart Burke's collection of huskies with the big red Winged O on their shirt fronts have struck their mainland stride tonight and yesterday afternoon, playing at top speed from the tap of the gong in the opening round until the final out, when they were sent to play ball. This time the crack All-Chinese went down to defeat, the count at the close of the day being four runs for the Olympic boys and one run for the hometown sons of swat. While the game yesterday was not as spectacular as that of the day before, it was more bitterly contested and the way the two squads fought for every inch of ground and every point of vantage kept the big crowd on the anxious seat every moment of the game.

Great O'rod Fees Game
It was a generous crowd in the way of dispensing the cheers and handclaps and it filled every available inch of the two bleachers and extended far along the right and left field fences. Underneath the grandstand it was standing room only and there were few vacant seats to be found in the spacious grandstand. The old game has come back into its own and no better proof was needed than that crowd.

Of course, the local boys came in for the lion's share of the hurrahing but the fans did not overlook the fact that the Winged O boys were playing baseball and when a cheer was due the visitors it was given with a hearty will.

Fine Work by Martin
"Speeder" Martin was the Olympics moundman and the "Speeder" gave as much as he got. He was a real crowd pleaser and an exhibition as one would care to witness. The much-heralded swingings of the All-Chinese had no terrors for the Winged O heaver and he kept them eating out of his hand for the entire nine innings of the game. Only once was he in any sort of danger and then when things began to look blue for the boys from over the sea, "Speeder" put on the brakes and checked a threatening rally. Only four of the All-Chinese got on bases during the game. After twelve of them had gone out in one, two, three order, Lai Tien reached first in safety when Eddie Benn booted a hard hit ball at third base. "Speeder" then bowled over Kan Yen on strikes, made Lang Akana hit weakly to third base and then Martin fanned Yen Chin. Three little infield "ape" put the All-Chinese away in the sixth, but in the eighth they broke into the run column.

First Hit off "Speeder"
Kai Luke opened the third was helpless before "Speeder" and after a vain attempt to hit the ball he sagged his bat back to the bench. Vernon Ayau took a healthy swing at the ball and scored the first hit for the Chinese off "Speeder's" delivery. It was a "sorking good drive to left centerfield and Vernon pulled up at second before the ball was recovered. When Lai Tien cracked a liner past Jack Kennedy at second, Vernie dashed the rubber. Lai got gay on the initial sack and a toss from Martin to McGrath to Kennedy put him out. Kan Yen bounced one to Martin and the inning was past. That was the only time the All-Chinese had a look in against the Olympics.

Fast Fielding Helped
In the eighth Lank Akana got on, but died second when Eddie Benn gathered in Yen Chin's drive and tossed the ball to Kennedy. Yen Chin was caught off first and Cheong was out on a weak infield tap to "Speeder."

Kekoa, who relieved Luck Yee when the going got too rough in the sixth inning, fanned in the ninth. En Sue rounded out to Kennedy and Kai Luke breezed for the third time, ending all chances of the Chinese to again break into the hit or run column.

For the All-Chinese Luck Yee breezed along nicely for four innings with tip-top support keeping him out of danger. In the fifth he cracked and the Olympics gathered two runs. Yen Chin helped the visitors get one of the other, Three hits made it all the more sad, Rioridan, starting the inning, poled one back of second base that Kai Luke might have got had not Lang Akana interfered. Chet Barker, next in line, sent one into left with the speed of a bullet and Yen Chin failed to block the drive, Rioridan going over to third. Kan Yen Goes Wild
With no chance to head off Jimmy, Yen Chin heaved the ball over Lai.

TENNIS STARS IN TRIM FOR SERIES

Clarence J. Griffin, running mate of William Johnston as champion doubles tennis player of the United States, and Ward Dawson, champion of Southern California, will arrive in the Chiyo Maru from the Orient tomorrow morning for the purpose of playing in the tennis matches which begin next Thursday afternoon at the Pacific Courts, Merchant and Richard streets. Beals C. Wright and Alan J. Lowrey will play the first match, a doubles against John O'Dowda and Stanley Kennedy and Griffin and Dawson will play in the second match, a doubles against Henrich and W. P. Dillingham.

With Beals Wright, Clarence Griffin, Ward Dawson, J. C. Rohlfes and C. H. Low joining the local colony of tennis players, a great array of request violators will be on hand for the series. Condition with the local players is excellent and both Lowrey and Wright, O'Dowda and Kennedy and Henrich and Dillingham are expected to put forth wonderful games. As Griffin and Dawson had plenty of real hard work in Manila they too should be fit and ready, all of which assures a great opening day for the tennis tournament.
